

Made FOR More

Here are some suggested guidelines for prayer time:

- Remember to keep your prayers short (3-5 sentences), and allow each person to pray multiple times. Remember this is a guide not a mandate.
- Let what one person prays lead you into a prayer, like you would a conversation with someone
- Silence is okay! Allow the Spirit to move in the silence, give him space to work.
- When someone is praying, join with them quietly.
- Be attentive to areas of repentance, hope or obedience and let's see what God does

God's Presence

In hearts:

- Women and girls would hear the GOSPEL and be transformed
- Intergenerational charity and generosity: that women would enjoy and value the presence of those from different life stages and want to encourage others quickly
- Unity of hearts, minds, and purpose among leadership
- Softness to content, hearts would be "more curious than certain" for all in attendance
- Hearts would be humble, submitting to God's Word as Authority
- Generosity of spirit among attendees when uncomfortable or inconvenienced

In minds:

- Satan would be bound from complicating matters or throwing up barriers
- Give moms and daughters shared language and resources to continue the conversation

In actions:

- People with different gifts and graces would be able to use those gifts and graces to benefit the whole
- Help women invest thoughtfulness into how they want to shape culture and speak to the culture the world lays before our children...boys and girls... even though only the girls will be present
- Inspire PCA women to see that they are needed in the lives of the next generation and will therefore pursue those relationships
- Model women's ministry and children's ministry working together
- Grow intergenerational opportunities for our churches in order to strengthen the church
